Average thickness of plate or section	Maximum gauge or diameter of electrodes to be used.
Less than 3/16"	10 S.W.G.
3/16" and above but less than 5/16"	8 S.W.G.
5/16" and above but less than 3/8"	6 S.W.G.

tolerance of 10% or 30 amperes from the specified value whichever is less shall be permitted.

b) The welding procedure shall be such as to ensure that the weld metal can be fully and satisfactorily deposited through the length and thickness of all joints so that distortion and shrinkage stresses are reduced to the minimum and thickness of welds meet the requirements of quality specified.

9.WORKMANSHIP:

9.1.Preparation of Fusion Faces: Fusion faces shall be cut by steering machine or gas cutting and later dressed by filing or grinding so that they shall be free from irregularities such as would interfere with the deposition of the specified size of weld to cause the defects. Fusion faces and the surrounding surfaces shall be free from heavy slag, oil paint or any substance which might affect the quality of the weld or impede the progress of welding. The welding face shall be free of rust and shall have metal shine surfaces. The parts to be welded shall be brought into as close contact as possible and the gap due to fault workmanship or incorrect fit up shall not exceed 1/16". If separation of 1/16" or more occurs locally, the size of the fillet weld shall be increased at such a position by an amount equal to the width of the gap.

The parts to be welded shall be maintained to their correct position during welding. They shall be securely held in position by means of tack welds, service bolts, clamps or rings before commencing welding so as to prevent and relative movement due to distortion, wind or any other cause.

9.2.Step Back Method should be used to Avoid Distortion: The minimum leg length of a fillet weld as deposited should not be less than the specified size and the throat thickness as deposited should be not less than that tabulated below:

Throat Thickness of Fillet:

Angle between fusion faces	60 ⁰ - 90 ⁰	91 ⁰ -10 0 ⁰	101 ⁰ -106 0	107 ⁰ -113 0	114 ⁰ -12 0 ⁰

In no case should a concave be deposited without the specific approval of the Engineer-in-Charge unless the leg length is increased above the specified length so that the resultant throat thickness is as great as would have been obtained by the deposition of a flat. All welds shall be deposited in a pre-arranged order and sequence taking due account of the effects of distortion and shrinkage stresses. After making each run of welding, all slag shall be removed and final run shall be protected by clean boiled linseed oil till approved. The weld metal, as deposited, shall be free from crack, slag, excessive porosity, cavities and other faults. The weld metal shall be properly fused with the parent metal without overlapping or serious undercutting at the toes of the weld. The surfaces of the weld shall have a uniform and consistent contour and regular appearance.

In welds containing crack, porosity or cavities in which the weld metal tends to overlap on the parent metal without proper fusion, the defective portions of the welds shall be cut and re-welded. Where serious undercutting occurs, additional weld metal shall be deposited to make good reduction. Testing of welded joints shall be done as per relevant IS codes 3600, 3613, 4260, 7205, 7215, 7307, 7310, 7318.

10.MODE OF MEASUREMENT:

All structural steel shall be measured on actual weight basis in metric tones or quintals or kgs. As mentioned in the schedule of quantities. The length or areas of various members including gusset plates shall be measured correctly to two places of decimals and the net weight worked out from the standard steel tables approved by Indian Standard Institution. No separate measurements shall be taken for welding, riveting, bolting, field connections, wastage of material etc. The rate shall include cost of all labour, materials, scaffolding, and transport and also cost of welding, riveting and bolting, field connections if any all to complete the job as per specifications.
